Jessica Wirsta, Danielle Wruth show 4-H champs

A big black whiteface steer shown by Jessica Wirsta got the nod from judges Anita Lessner and Dalynn Harris in the final round of conformation judging at Saturday's Elk Point 4-H Achievement Day to win the Grand Champion Steer banner sponsored by Elk Point Co-op. A very proud Marvin Ockerman led the Reserve Champion forward to accept the Remax Lakeland Realty trophy.

Also in the ring for the Parade of Champions were Nichole Havener, Jaylynn Wirsta, Roby Ockerman, Derek Wruth and Rhonda Wruth.

Danielle Wruth took home an armload of trophies for her Murray Grey herd. Her cow-calf pair won the TD Canada Trust trophy and went on to win the Supreme Champion banner from Lazy H Simmentals. Along with her yearling heifer, they also won the Herd Class for the George and Diana Anderson trophy. Nichole Havener's yearling won the Heifer Class championship sponsored by Wozniak Bulk Sales, going on to win the Reserve banner from Banana Hill Farms in the Supreme Female class. Nicholas Zapesocki won reserve trophies for both his yearling heifer, sponsored by Lakeland Tirecraft Ltd., and his cow and calf, sponsored by CJ Petroleum, however it was his sister Michelle who won reserve in the Herd competition, taking home the L7R Limousin trophy.

A big part of the 4-H program is the way the animals are presented. Thus, grooming and showmanship are very important. Grooming competition winners were, with winners in brackets: Senior - 1st: Jaylynn Wirsta (Elk Point Insurance); 2nd: Danielle Schnurer (Kelly's Closet); Intermediate - 1st: Colin Ference (Footprints); 2nd: Shaun Robinson (Sharkey's Service); Junior - 1st: Melissa Frisby (Home Town Grocers); 2nd: Marvin Ockerman (R. Tremblay Enterprises); Honorable Mention: Bryant Schnurer.

Winning Showmanship awards were: Senior - 1st. Nichole Havener (Clayton Orr Memorial); 2nd: Jaylynn Wirsta (M. Ockerman Trucking); Honorable

Ribbon cutting for new NLLS headquarters

A snip of the scissors on Saturday, June 1 marked the realization of a dream for the Northern Lights Library System, as they officially opened their spacious new headquarters in Elk Point.

NLLS board chairman Don Gulayec, who wielded the scissors, said the System was "pleased to showcase the new headquarters. After 10 years of steady growth, we needed more space to fulfill our longtime goals." With 13,000 square feet of offices and 14,000 square feet of warehouse space on 11 acres, he said, the former Pan Canadian Petroleum facility offers ample room for growth.

Northern Lights has "kept up to the changes of information technology... and can transfer information rapidly", Gulayec said. At the same time, "we don't lose track of serving the public libraries to the best of our ability. At the present time, we are doing a good job of passing on information to libraries and their patrons." He emphasized that "people in small communities shouldn't feel they are second class - they should be equal to the people living down the block from a big library in Edmonton" as far as the library services they receive. With the "efficiency achieved by centralization, member libraries are able to concentrate on service at the local level."

Gulayec thanked the board for "getting on side" and making the decision on the location of the new headquarters. "A lot of communities bid, but after seeing this I am sure it was the right choice." He thanked Alberta Community Development for the funding that made the needed renovations possible.

"To have accomplished such a feat doesn't happen overnight," MLA Ray Danyluk said. "We are very happy and fortunate to have the headquarters here. It's a very beautiful building in a lovely setting, with room for expansion." He said "Stan Woloshyn believed in the vision, although trials had to be overcome" to make the headquarters a reality. Danyluk also thanked the individuals who some years ago had a vision of a northern library system. "Their work and dedication is what enabled us to be here today."

Deputy mayor Parrish Tung was "very, very proud to have you here. What a wonderful facility! We are the literacy center of northeast Alberta."

Gulayec thanked Roger Capus and architect Tony Eng, "two individuals who guided us through the trials and tribulations" of creating the headquarters, and said "one of our greatest assets is our staff... a dedicated group of professionals who were willing to take on more management." He introduced Kerry Anderson, Loretta Swedgan, Wendy Sears-Ilnicki and Kris Jorgensen, and passed along regrets from new director Carol Morgan who was unable to attend the opening for health reasons.

Alberta Community Development's Punch Jackson said the headquarters would "never have reached this point without an individual who worked day and night and tried to find Stan Woloshyn and me, to make sure the headquarters stayed in Elk Point," former mayor Ed Buck. He added thanks to Gulayec, Bill Barnes, Capus and Eng, and "a whole team of lawyers," noting that the donated property had to be turned over to the Province and then dedicated to the government to NLLS. "The people who really made this possible were Petrovera and Pan Canadian, who wanted to leave a legacy in the community. They certainly did. Stan Woloshyn made the key decision to turn over the building and dedicate the funding."

Northern Lights board members, along with boards and staff from libraries across the region enjoyed tours of the new facility prior to the opening ceremonies. The public was also invited to drop by for an inside look at the operations of the library system.

NORTHERN LIGHTS LIBRARY SYSTEM CHAIRMAN Don Gulayec cuts the ribbon held by Kris Jorgensen, Wendy Sears-Ilnicki, Kerry Anderson and Loretta Swedgan to officially open the new headquarters. Elk Point deputy mayor Parrish Tung, MLA Ray Danyluk and County of St. Paul councillor Sharil Baumgardner shared the spotlight.

Auto show the biggest and best ever

Two blocks of main street were overflowing with the glitter of chrome and the gleam of custom paint jobs on 69 entries as Elk Point Auto Club hosted their biggest and best Show and Shine ever. Everything from antiques in the beginning stages of restoration to street rods to a dragster were on display, including a large delegation from the Alberta Post War Auto Society, who received a plaque for the best club participation.

The oldest vehicle, a 1919 McLaughlin Buick owned by Harold Rathwell of Wainwright, was also the People's Choice award winner and the winner of the Antique class. Second place in the class went to a 1940 Ford Deluxe Opera Coupe shown by Brian Samuel of Cold Lake.

Post-60s winner was a 1969 Mustang Fastback owned by Gabe Legere of Lac La Biche, with a red-and-white 1960 Corvette convertible owned by Arden and Irene Okerstrom of Sherwood Park placing second.

David Durnin's 1967 Camaro came from Dewberry to place first in the Show category, with "Jaws," the unique 1961 NSU decked with fins, teeth and scaly paint job, owned by Ed Horbasenko of Two Hills, taking second honors.

A bright red 1951 Ford Custom owned by Cary and Debbie Treasure of Edmonton won the Convertible class, with Len Balash of St. Paul second with his orange Dodge Challenger.

A 1954 GMC 1/2 ton shown by Curtis Blair of Bonnyville won Modified, with Flo and Larry Nordquist's 1930 Ford "A-bone" from Lloydminster placing second.

Brian Blanchford, Bonnyville, won the Truck division with his 1963 Mercury 1/2ton. Brian Samuek, Cold Lake, was second with a '57 Mercury.

A new category this year is Work In Progress. Ed Nelson of Stoney Lake won this with his 1928 Plymouth Q coupe, while Clarence Smith of Boscome was second with a 1928 Model A Ford truck.

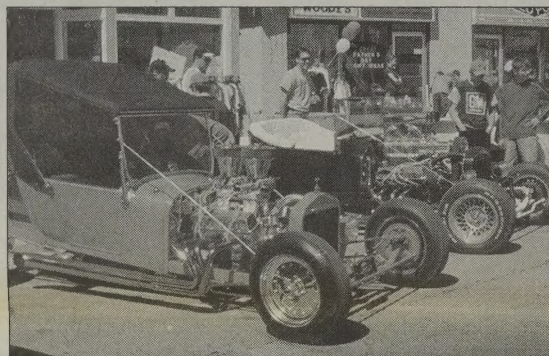

A '96 Honda Goldwing owned by Don and Pam Packyn of Lloydminster won the Motorcycle division, with Rick Goad's 2000 Harley Fat Boy from Dewberry second.

The scene was green in the Tractors section, with John Deere across the board. Ollie Fedorus won first with his 1950 'M', and John Suvak second with a 1938 'D'.

It was no contest for Krazer Productions of London, ON, to win the Furthest Away trophy with an '88 Honda Civic, which also boasted an awesome sound system.

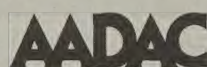

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE was this 1919 McLaughlin Buick from Wainwright.

SUPER STREET RODS added glamor to the show.

SHARK WARNING ON MAIN STREET! Ed Horbasenko's crowd-pleasing and finny favorite gives spectators a big grin. "Jaws" also rolls its eyes and spits water.

A celebration of service: Alvina Schuhmacher retires

There were regrets all around on Friday night, as former co-workers, MD of St. Paul Foundation representatives and board members and other special guests gathered to celebrate the retirement of former Heritage Lodge matron Alvina Schuhmacher after 17 years of service.

Jan Wood McIntyre of the Home Care staff "will miss the environment you created... your green thumb, the seasonal displays, and the compassion. We had many good times and a few trying times." Mrs. Schuhmacher said "we always seemed to work things out... all the Home Care people have been very good."

MLA Ray Danyluk, who previously served on the Foundation board, thanked Mrs. Schuhmacher "for all the knowledge. It feels good to be standing in a committee or in caucus and to know all the information about lodges and self-contained seniors accommodation." He also noted, "you made sure we heard and we acted." Mrs. Schuhmacher agreed that "you listened. We had good communication between board and staff, and for the most part, I had a good working relationship with the board."

Rhonda Berg, who has worked with Mrs. Schuhmacher since the lodge opened, presented an exquisite needlecraft picture from the Heritage Lodge staff. Mrs. Schuhmacher said her staff had been so efficient "I wondered why they needed a manager. I miss you all."

Former mayor Ed Buck, who had encouraged Mrs. Schuhmacher to apply for the position 17 years ago, said it was "very important to find someone with the patience to deal with seniors. You did a terrific job and I think we were the leaders in northeast Alberta in management."

St. Paul mayor John Trefanenko has been on the Foundation board "a great three years. We knew this end of the MD Foundation was working properly. We're sorry to see you leave before we learned everything." Mrs. Schuhmacher said sometimes she had been outspoken in dealing with the board, "but it was the only way to get the point across. It was pleasant working with all the board members over the years."

County councillor Sharil Baumgardner "always appreciated your outspokenness" to the board, and said she had learned a lot in her few months on the board.

Marge Lakusta of the MD of St. Paul Foundation doesn't know "what we would have done without you" to take care of the "huge task" of getting the lodge open. "I could always count on Alvina to do my job well. We attended a lot of conventions together, and both worked with a lot of board members. It's a natural instinct with me to pick up the phone and call you for advice." Mrs. Schuhmacher agreed that they had had "a very good working relationship. I hope the new manager will do just as well."

ROSES FOR RETIREE Alvina Schuhmacher were presented along with a gold watch by Marge Lakusta and Mike Bergeron of the MD of St. Paul Foundation.

Mike Bergeron spoke on behalf of the County. "You made things go so well. We were fortunate to have you for all these years." As chairman of the Foundation, he added "thanks for helping me along." He gave a rundown on the early days of the lodge, when lodge population ranged from eight to 15, eventually filling to capacity, and with more rooms added in 1998. Through the years,

"Alvina ensured the quality of life for the residents. What she did was from her heart."

Bergeron and Mrs. Lakusta presented Mrs. Schuhmacher with a gold watch and a bouquet of roses in appreciation of all her efforts.

Mrs. Schuhmacher said she "enjoyed every moment of the past 17 years. I've loved my job. It's just been a real good time." Her husband Bill was also very much involved in the lodge and said "I enjoyed my role in it."

CRIME STOPPERS

Sometime between 11:30 a.m. on April 27 and 1:30 p.m. on April 29, a 1988 gold Ford Tempo, which was parked facing north on 51 Street between 48 Avenue and 49 Avenue in Elk Point, was damaged. The damage appeared to have been done when another vehicle (possibly a truck with a tall bumper) backed into the driver's side door and front panel. Anyone with information is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at (780) 724-3964.

■ Nutrition Notes

Safe summer eating

Summer - a time for picnics, BBQs, salads and fun - is also a time of increased risk for food poisoning.

Bacteria need three things to grow - nutrients, moisture and a favorable temperature. If conditions are right, bacteria can multiply at a very fast rate. Anyone who eats the food containing the bacteria, or the toxin produced by the bacteria, can become very ill. Symptoms can range from upset stomach and diarrhea to serious illness and death.

A hazardous food may not look or smell bad. Keeping food safe to eat through proper food handling is the key to preventing food poisoning. Here are some tips for safe food handling:

■ General rule - keep cold foods cold, below 4° C, and keep hot foods hot, above 60° C. Why? In the danger zone, between 4° and 60°, bacteria multiply very rapidly.

■ Use the fridge, coolers and ice to keep salads and other cold items below 4° C.

■ Keep hot foods above 60° C until ready to serve.

■ Place cold and hot foods on the table just before you are ready to eat.

■ Put leftovers away immediately after a meal instead of letting them warm (or cool) to room temperature.

■ Thaw foods in the fridge, a basin of cold water (fully cover the food item), or defrost in the microwave. Do not thaw items on the counter - the outside of the food will be at room temperature, encouraging growth of bacteria, while the inside thaws.

■ Cook meats well - especially hamburger meat, turkey and chicken. Cooking to the proper temperatures destroys the bacteria. Ground meats are a concern because the bacteria normally found on the surface of the meat gets mixed in during the grinding. The ground meat must be well cooked to kill these bacteria.

■ Prevent cross-contamination of bacteria from one food to another through hands, utensils and work surfaces by: washing hands thoroughly with warm, soapy water before, during and after food preparation; washing work surfaces and utensils with hot, soapy water and sanitizing with a bleach solution after use; storing uncooked meat in a container in the fridge to prevent meat juices from dripping onto other foods.

■ When in doubt, throw it out.

These simple suggestions can go a long way in helping to prevent food-borne illnesses. Keep these tips in mind when you handle food to help you to have a wonderful and safe summer. For more information, call Linda Fox, RD, Elk Point Health Centre.

Senior Citizens Week is here!

In last week's Elk Point Review you will notice by the proclamation that Senior Citizens Week was declared for this week. Now, isn't that exciting, that Senior Citizens Week, June 2 to 8, is here? The week began with a Pancake Breakfast at the Seniors Centre and all seniors in our community were invited to attend. And imagine that... someone else, other than seniors, flipped the pancakes for them. A big thank you goes out to all of your - Town of Elk Point Town Council and the County of St. Paul FCSS.

The Seniors Advisory Council for Alberta would like to encourage all communities in Alberta to recognize our seniors during Seniors Week. What is exciting about the Town of Elk Point is that the Town Council of Elk Point wanted to recognize seniors - just because. It was they who came up with the idea to put together a pancake breakfast for seniors in our community. What a great idea, Town Council. Thank you.

Speaking of events, did you all know that the Seniors Advisory Council of Alberta is sponsoring a Senior Citizens Week 2002 Creative Event Contest? All entries must be received by July 8, 2002. So, we have time, if we choose to enter. Anyway, if anyone is interested, you may send entries to: Seniors Advisory Council for Alberta

from the FCSS desk

Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 4R7. The theme for Senior Citizens Week 2002 is "Alberta Seniors - Involved in Our Communities."

We could work around that theme quite easily. We have seniors who are involved in some of our committees, like the Community Policing Advisory Committee and the Interagency Health Committee. Your contributions are valuable. Thank you. And of course, where would our local churches be without senior talent and resources being shared? Thank you everyone. Then we have seniors who volunteer their time to help other seniors. For example, those people we talked about last week during our Meals-On-Wheels Awareness Week - Olga Ruzycski and Raymond Hammond. Then we have seniors who are involved with our clubs and organizations such as the Elks, the Masons, the Royal Purple, the Legion, the Historical Society, Friends of the Forts, Friends of the Library, Health Care Auxiliary, Red Cross, and the Lions Club. Names in these groups are many. Thank you, everyone, for your involvement. Then there are those seniors who help other seniors where they live at our Elk Point Heritage Lodge and our two manors. Thank you, everyone, for all you do in helping to make the lives of those around you easier.

Speaking of seniors helping seniors, I cannot forget the main seniors organization in our community. To all the members of Pioneer Circle, you are awesome! You not only plan activities for your own socials with each other that range from meals, entertainment, dances, games and sports to wellness - that is a valuable contribution in itself - but, you also help the rest of our community. Whenever we need a host for after-funeral lunches, you are there. You also help with opening your centre for a church location, wedding, anniversary and birthday celebrations, to workshops or working sessions to any business or community club. In other words, you share your talents and resources with everyone in our community. A big thank you goes out to President Margaret Modin and her "crew" THANK YOU seniors from your community!

An atom bomb shelter in Elk Point?

By Ron Onusko

Elk Point Historical Society
Research and photos by Pat Johnson

In the Cold War that developed after World War II and in the light of the USSR acquiring atomic bomb-making capabilities, fears gripped North America. Many Canadian communities developed air raid warning sirens and some built bomb shelters.

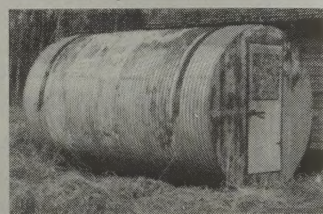

The question arose as to whether Elk Point had had a shelter or shelters. Pat Johnson began investigating the question about bomb shelters which had existed in the 1940s and 1950s. As a member of the Elk Point Historical Society, such situations are intriguing. A very early result rumored that one was built just to the east of the railway station once located south of today's Railway Avenue and 50th Street. Early results also indicated that Dr. Ross built one near (or in) his house.

Further investigation revealed that perhaps two bomb shelters were located in St. Paul, one possibly in the county office basement. Another in the Elk Point area may have been located on John Zayonce's farm on the southwest quadrant of junction Highway 45 and Secondary Highway 646.

The next step involved a long-time resident of Elk

Point who said to Pat that no shelter was ever made in Elk Point.

"Yes, there was a bomb shelter," countered Steve Andrichak. "It was located about 50 feet north of the CN station, almost where Railway Avenue is." He dates its existence to about the late '40s to early '50s. "It had an opening to the south so entry could be gained directly from the railway station."

New information from another local claims that in the early '60s he dug out the existing bomb shelter which he recalls was "a prefab affair that was buried in a hole below ground level. I dug it up with a backhoe." He says that definitely, there was a bomb shelter. Another local stated that he was down in the shelter because as an electrician, who came to Elk Point in 1963, he was asked to disconnect the electrical line into the shelter.

At this juncture, Pat found out that the bomb shelter was sold to someone in Bonnyville and moved somewhere else. A new direction for research followed.

Pat Johnson then discovered Walter Fewchuk from Glendon and interviewed him, finding that Fewchuk had removed 16 bomb shelters from various towns in northeast Alberta on a contract from CN in 1965. All were close to the railway stations and likely part of a national installation program. He received the shelters as partial payment for the contract.

In Glendon, three people had keys to the shelter in town: the mayor, the postmaster and the stationmaster. They were about 12 feet long and 9 or 10 feet in diameter.

In Elk Point, the Town purchased the food for its shelter.

Entry was gained down a ladder in a vertical culvert, which then went at right angles into a circular opening. They were at least three or four feet below ground level. Inside, shelves lined the sides and there were two fold-down single plywood beds. One person mentioned that there was a telegraph and a line for communication.

It thus appears, yes, Elk Point did have a bomb shelter.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our apologies to those who were confused by last week's partial story. We have reprinted it in its entirety.

Kerry Loughran is Minor Hockey Coach of the Year

Elk Point Minor Hockey wound up the season just a few days later than the Toronto Maple Leafs, with the presentation of two prestigious awards.

Kerry Loughran, coach of the Pee wee Avalanche, was named Coach of the Year, and said he had enjoyed coaching the team of boys and girls. "I'm looking forward to doing it again next year." His team "lost more games than we won, but the kids were still laughing. We had a lot of fun."

Loughran had the honor of presenting one of his players with the Alex Kurash Memorial Award. Royle Bristow was the year's most improved Pee wee player, and came to practices regularly and played hard for the Avalanche.

Not all teams were represented at the windup, but all those who were represented had comments on the year. The Micro Novice Tornadoes had a "pretty good season" according to Geoff Bishop, with "a few losses and a few wins too." The Atom Avalanche was applauded for doing really well in Provincials.

Shane St. Arnault of the Bantam Thunder said he coached "quite a group of guys" from Dewberry, Fishing Lake and Elk Point in the Tier One league which covered an area from Lac La Biche to Wainwright, Elk Point to Lloydminster. "We held our own, even with a lot of injuries. The boys pulled together, and won the league and won the zone." They represented Elk Point well at Provincials, and St. Arnault is "looking forward to next year and a whole new season."

Brian Tucker, whose dream was to get female hockey going in Elk Point, said the Storm had "an awesome season - they just about blew away all the other teams" during league play, and "showed themselves well at provincials. They had an excellent attitude and played hockey and had fun." The original Storm sweaters, handed down from one of the boys' teams and now replaced by handsome sweaters of their own, are presented each year to players who graduate from high school or must leave the team because they pass their 18th birthdays. This year, Megan Tucker, Alyssa Fry, Kali Cousins and Brookelyn Blacklock are the recipients of the retired sweaters.

Spring's here - Leafs out, ball everywhere

By Doug Bassett

Review Sports

Ever wonder why this year was so cold, and now we a finally getting some warm weather? Well now spring is here - the Leafs are out.

But two weeks ago it was still cold, when the Sox were in Athabasca for a double header, on May 25th splitting the day, winning the first game 5 to 3, then dropping the second game. Isaac Peters strong on the mound going the full distance.

On Saturday June 1, the Sox travelled to Mornville for a double header. Mornville is a seasoned team with some big players who can pound the ball, the Sox losing both games, but the practice facing some top pitchers didn't hurt. Some other positives for the day, Nicky Myshaniuk batting 1000 on the day, with two RBI, then getting his first call to pitch doing another fine job. Kevin Moneta made some very tough fielding plays at the hot spot, third base, making numerous long (127 foot) throws to first.

On Sunday, June 2 another double, this time the Edmonton Warriors were at Bassett Field, the Sox losing the first game, with Mark Letestu on the mound, not getting a lot of support from the fielders, but not only that, the Sox bats were flat and that didn't help the cause either.

Things did go better after some lunch, Melvin Easthope on the mound to start, taking down the first six batters, the Sox taking an early ten run lead, then Myles Quinney coming in to close. The Sox were hitting much better in the second game, Mark Letestu with a 3 RBI triple, Greg Kozicky with his fourth triple of the year, Isaac Peters with an RBI triple, Kevin Moneta with an in the park home run, and Lee Letestu, another bantam aged player with two, RBI singles. This game went on for three hours, the Sox eventually winning by 10 runs. What a difference, one game you lose by ten, the next you win by 10, you figure it out!

NOTICE

COUNTY OF ST. PAUL NO. 19

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the County of St. Paul No. 19 intends to pass a bylaw to amend Bylaw No. 1318, Municipal Development Plan as it relates to CONFINED FEEDING OPERATIONS.

a. The paragraph following Recommendation #10 in Section B.1 of Part 2 is modified by deleting the words "intensive livestock operations" and replacing them with the words "confined feeding operations".

b. Recommendation #11 in Section B.1 of Part 2 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:
Recommendation #11: (to be implemented immediately)
"The County shall encourage the Natural Resources Conservation Board to abide by the regulations approved pursuant to the Agricultural Operation Practices Act in dealing with confined feeding operations and manure storage facilities in the County."

c. Recommendation #12 in Section B.1 of Part 2 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:
Recommendation #12: (to be implemented immediately)
In addition to the minimum distance separation requirements provided through regulations adopted under the Agricultural Operation Practices Act, the County's policy is that confined feeding operations requiring registration or approval and manure storage facilities requiring authorization under that Act shall not be allowed within the areas identified on the map entitled "Areas from which Confined Feeding Operations are to be Restricted", which generally includes all areas within 3.2km (2 miles) of the Towns of St. Paul and Elk Point, within 1.6km (1 mile) of the hamlets of Ashmont, Mallaig, Lindbergh, Heinsburg, Riverview and St. Edouard, within 1.6km (1 mile) of Whitney Lakes Provincial Park, and within 1.6km (1 mile) of the areas designated Country Residential District within the County's Land Use Bylaw. Such areas shall be considered an urban fringe when calculating the regulations approved under the Agricultural Operation Practices Act.

Within these urban fringe areas, existing confined feeding operations may be allowed to grow up to 50% in terms of livestock units provided that they satisfy the regulations.

d. The Section entitled "Land Use Bylaw changes" in the Appendix following Part 3 is modified by deleting the first articulated action, beginning with the words "In cases where agriculture is already operating" and ending with the words "the change may be allowed."

e. The Section entitled "Land Use Bylaw Changes" in the Appendix following Part 3 is further modified by deleting from the fifth articulated action the words "intensive livestock operation" and replacing them with the words "confined feeding operations."

f. The Section entitled "Land Use Bylaw Changes" in the Appendix following Part 3 is further modified by deleting the sixth and seventh articulated actions, beginning with the words "Introduce regulations into the Land Use Bylaw" and ending with the words "pot bellied pigs, rabbits (as pets) etc."

g. The Section entitled "First Parcel Out" in the appendix following Part 3 is modified by deleting from the second paragraph the words "intensive livestock operation" and replacing them with the words "confined feeding operations".

h. The map identified as Schedule "A" of this Bylaw, identifying the "Areas from which Confined Feeding Operations are to be Restricted", is added to the Plan.

A public hearing will be held on June 11, 2002 at 11:30 a.m. or as soon thereafter as can possibly be arranged, at the County Office in St. Paul.

Copies of the Bylaw and Map may be inspected during normal office hours at the County Office.

For further information, contact the County Office at 645-3301.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

Elk Point Public Library salutes our wonderful seniors

By Carlen Mutch
Summer Reading Program Coordinator

As you may have already read or heard, the week of June 2 through 8 is Seniors Week. The library has many resources available to our seniors. We have subscriptions to Arthritis Today and Good Times, a magazine devoted to those older citizens. Our donation from the FCSS has enabled us to purchase a large number of new books of interest to seniors. Living With Hearing Loss, A Senior's Health Journal, Beating the Senior Blues, Diabetic Cooking for Seniors and The Alzheimer's Handbook are just a few of our new titles. We have also purchased numerous books on arthritis and pain management.

We are also committed to providing reading material to those who can't make it down to the library. Thanks to Faye Smith, residents at Heritage Lodge are provided with reading material and movies. I'm sure that everyone appreciates this service.

Seniors Tea postponed

Continuing on with our senior theme, the library has been putting on a Seniors Tea for about three years now, started by Karina Mitchell when she was librarian here. Seniors Tea is held the first Tuesday of every month from September to June, and all seniors in the community are welcome to participate. Note that there will be no Seniors Tea for the months of July and August.

Because this week is so very busy for our seniors, we are postponing the Seniors Tea until Tuesday, June 11, when we will be taking the tea on a little road trip, out to Fort George and Buckingham House Historic Site. Anyone who is interested in coming should meet at the library on June 4 at 1:45 p.m.

More Tracpac

I have another comment about Tracpac to add this week. I'm not trying to scare anyone into ordering books, I just keep thinking of more things to add. If you are planning on going on holidays this summer, please hold back on ordering. If we can't get in contact with you in a week's time, we send the books back. This just creates frustration for both you and the library.

Think summer!

Remember that it will soon be time for the Summer Reading Program. You can now register at the library. Sessions for ages 4 - 7 will be Tuesdays from 1:30 to 3:00 p.m., and for ages 8 - 11, Thursdays from 1:30 to 3:00 p.m.

Summer Hours are:
Monday, 10 am-6 pm;
Tuesday, 10 am-6 pm;
Wednesday, noon-8 pm;
Thursday, 10 am-6 pm;
Fridays 10 am-6 pm.

More from Calvary Family Fellowship's 1st Anniversary

Red Cross Canvass successful

Campaign coordinator Jean McGinnis has reported the results of the Elk Point and District Red Cross Spring Canvass for 2002. A total of $9361.75 was collected, very close behind last year's total of $9448.00.

Amounts by area are: Landonville - $1425.00; Lindbergh - $915.00; Heinsburg - $1263.00

Elk Point Town $2685.75; Elk Point Rural - $3073.00

A big "Thank You" to Elk Point and surrounding areas for their generous support,

THE BUBBLEGUM CLUB is a thriving developing ministry who delighted the audience with their music (above) as well as their puppetry skills.

ADELE AND RALPH JOHNSON headlined the musical entertainment, with a number of Adele's original songs, including her newest, "I Found You."

THE CHARTRAND FAMILY sang several old and new gospel favorites with guitar and harmonica accompaniment to round out the celebration concert.

Christian Community Church news

Elk Point Christian Community Church is celebrating summer with a pair of enjoyable outdoor activities next month.
